WELCOME!

On behalf of the Traffic Club of Philadelphia and the Club's Board of Governors, I would like to welcome you to the club's 114th Annual Dinner. As the club's current President, I am pleased to host the diverse group of transportation and logistics professionals here tonight. Nights like these are the product of year-round efforts by the Board of Governors — thank you to all who supported the officers who brought us to the Union League this January and to other events throughout the year. I am particularly thankful for the depth of industry experience of our Board as well as my own employers over the years. The exchange of ideas within the board, bolstered by the camaraderie within the organization, is what makes us successful.

This year we will award PBF Energy as Company of the Year. PBF Energy one of the largest independent petroleum refiners and suppliers of unbranded transportation fuels, heating oil, petrochemical feedstocks, lubricants and other petroleum products in the United States. They sell products throughout the Northeast, Midwest, Gulf Coast and West Coast of the United States, as well as in other regions of the United States, Canada and Mexico. They own and operate six domestic oil refineries and related assets. PBF Energy also has a logistics business segment. Jim Fedena, Vice President of Logistics will receive the award.

The Traffic Club is also pleased to award Dariusz Mroczek, Global Transportation Manager for IKEA, the Person of the Year Award. One of IKEA's North American Supply Chain Operations locations is in King of Prussia, PA. IKEA's goal is simple, affordable and sustainable, and Mr. Mroczek is responsible for procurement and transportation that aligns with those goals within Europe and the Americas, and they use our PhilaPort as part of that plan.

In the short term, we thank our awardees for spending time with us here tonight, but also for their contributions to our industry and to the Philadelphia metro area, long term. What you see here tonight — on the screens that show the sponsors, the individuals speaking at the podium — is absolutely a product of relationships in the transportation and supply chain business. Our sponsors, many of whom have supported the Traffic Club for decades, are critical for the club to flourish as it is. This night celebrates those relationships and hopefully facilitates new connections that last decades longer. Our collective supply chain is something special and extends all over the globe, right from our desks here in the Philadelphia metro area.

Cheers to the Traffic Club of Philadelphia and the 114th Annual Dinner!

ANNUAL DINNER COMMITTEE

Leigh Baker

Vice President Service Value
Tucker Company Worldwide

The Board of the TCP is excited to welcome our past Presidents and Officers, regular attendees, and new guests to our 114th Annual Dinner! We are lucky to be able to come together to celebrate over a century of leadership in the transportation industry, and I personally want to thank everyone in attendance for your support. Without you, your partnerships, and continuing contributions to the greater Philadelphia metro area, we wouldn't be here tonight.

As we hear from our distinguished honorees, be mindful of the connections we all have to each other and how these impactful relationships shape our approach to conducting business. I'm proud to work for a company that values partnerships and happy to have so many of my Tucker colleagues here tonight. I'm also proud to be a part of the Traffic Club of Philadelphia, working alongside some of the best and brightest in the industry. I'd be remiss not to mention that events throughout the year that connect us, like tonight, are only possible because of the dedication of our Board of Governors, and I extend heartfelt gratitude on behalf of all present.

We look forward to a wonderful event!

Customers located along Conrail's lines in these shared asset areas have access to the nation's rail network through either NS or CSX.
